

THE RELATIONSHIP

Keep Customers Coming Back

Social media finds new people. Email keeps them. It is the one audience you truly own, and it brings the best return of anything online.

The audience nobody can take from you

On social media you are renting the audience, and the platform decides who sees you. With email, the list is yours. You can reach every customer any time, and it consistently earns more per message than any other channel.

What we set up

A welcome sequence

Automatic emails that greet every new subscriber and turn interest into a first purchase.

A simple newsletter

Regular updates that keep you top of mind, written in your voice.

Smart follow-ups

Gentle nudges for people who looked but did not buy, on a steady cadence.

List building

Signup forms and QR codes so your list grows from your site and in person.

Drafted by the system, sent by a human

Our AI system writes the emails in your voice. Your assistant reviews and sends them. As with everything we do, nothing goes out automatically without a person approving it first.

What two months with us looks like

Here is the typical path, based on the real work we have done building these systems for clients from zero.

WEEKS 1-3 Foundation + Setup Questionnaire, brand guide, and your system and dashboard set up.	WEEKS 3-6 Website Your full website built, with SEO and your rounds of revisions.	WEEKS 6-8 Social + Email Accounts, a content calendar, and your email sequences live.	ONGOING We run it Your assistant and AI keep it all moving, every week.

By around the two-month mark, the whole system is set up: your dashboard, a live website with your revisions, social accounts with a content plan, and your email running. From there, it is steady, consistent work that compounds.
